Stainless steel: Variety across industries and applications

Stainless steel is characterised by, among other things, its high resistance to corrosion and heat – and due to its excellent mechanical and chemical properties is employed in many different sectors.

Industry: Stainless steel tubes and profiles make valuable contributions to the chemical, petrochemical, food and beverages, pharmaceutical and semiconductor-processing industries.

Construction: Stainless steel is used in the field of construction primarily for architectural applications. The material is synonymous with aesthetic, lasting solutions.

Automotive industry: Stainless steel is the answer to growing demands. Particularly where exhaust systems are concerned – not to mention body parts and structural components.

Energy and environmental engineering: Be it for wind turbines or solar collectors – stainless steel satisfies the high demands of this rapidly changing industry. Dimensionally stable and highly resilient.

Decision-makers are at Tube – the world's No. 1

Why don't you, too, join in the highest-level meetings for new impulses, networking, professional small-talk and big business!
